

Obesity Reduction Course For Women

QUESTION AND ANSWER COLUMN

By Pauline Furlong

Miss Furlong will reply in this column to letters written by Evening World readers asking questions pertaining to the subjects treated in her articles. Letters must not exceed 250 words in length and must be limited to the subjects upon which information is desired.

"BEAUTY AND HEALTH LESSONS FOR THE SUMMER," a new series of articles written by MISS PAULINE FURLONG for women readers of The Evening World, will commence in MONDAY'S EVENING WORLD.

Pat on Shoulders and Large Bust.

The final obesity exercise chart, which was printed yesterday, is one of the best for reducing the large bust and fat upper arms and shoulders. I have repeatedly told my readers that these stubborn disfigurements are caused by the ill-fitting corset, which causes both the bust and upper shoulders to grow to abnormal proportions—a defect not easy to remedy. It is a common complaint among artists that it is next to impossible to find a model, whose bust has not been disfigured by the corset.

When the bust is pushed up and held up by the tight corset, the muscles in the immediate region, which were intended for this work, naturally become weak and allow the breast to sag as soon as the false support is removed.

It is not true that the full, firm contour of the breast is lost by reason of childbirth, and if the muscles were made strong enough in youth to support the breast, without a corset, this condition would not arise.

LETTERS FROM READERS.

WANTS TO GAIN WEIGHT—MILDRED C. writes: "Have many friends who are following your health course and are losing weight at such a remarkable rate that I decided to write and ask you how I can gain some in the next few weeks. I am going to the seashore, but never go in the ocean because I am so thin and can see every one laughing at me. It seems, I am five feet four and weigh only one hundred pounds. What should I eat?"

Live upon a dietary of raw eggs and milk, cereals, nuts, fruits, bananas and grapes. Take grape juice and olive oil, eat potatoes and starchy vegetables and salads, without vinegar. Drink much water, breathe deeply and live in the sunshine as much as possible. You should weigh 125-130, but 36, waist 28, hips 33, thighs 22, calf 13, ankle 8.

DIFFICULT BREATHING—EU-GENE K. asks: "Will you please tell me why it is so difficult for me to breathe through my nose? I am not fat and never seem to be short of breath like some fat persons, but just cannot seem to breathe unless my mouth is open. There seems to be some obstruction. What do you advise for running of the nose? Do you consider bag punching a good exercise?"

Care of the excretions, which will relieve the pressure of the retained waste matter upon the mucous membrane of the nose, will stop the nose from running. See a physician about the obstruction in the nose, which causes difficult breathing. Yes, bag punching is a very healthy exercise.

HENNA FOR REDDENING HAIR—M. D. writes: "Your kind letter in telling me how to get the following hair is appreciated. My hair is Boston Man Tells His Experience With "Fruit-a-tives"—Now Made in U.S.A.

MR. JAS. J. ROYALL, S.S. "Boston," Central Wharf, Boston, Mass., April 26th, 1914.

"For three years I was troubled with Constipation. At times the attacks would be very severe, accompanied by Dizziness and Violent Headaches. I took medicine and laxatives the whole time, but as soon as I discontinued the treatment my bowels would refuse to move. Last October I went to Montreal and there heard of 'Fruit-a-tives.' I used one box and the results were so pronounced that I bought two dozen boxes. I continued using 'Fruit-a-tives' and noticed a decided improvement. I gradually reduced the dose from three a day to one tablet every three or four days until the twenty-four boxes were finished, when my physical condition was perfect."

BRITISH SEIZE DYE CARGOES.

Number of Dutch Steamers Held Up.

BRISLON, June 10 (by wireless to Rayville).—"The Dutch newspaper Handelsblad says the British compelled the captains of several Dutch steamships to unload the entire dye in their cargoes before permitting the vessels to proceed to the Dutch India," says the Overseas News Agency.

"These dyes were needed for English industries. Great Britain had promised to let them pass, although they were manufactured in Germany. It is reported the British seek to justify their action by asserting that a former cargo of dyes reached undesirable hands."

COUPLE DIE IN QUARREL.

Bodies, Both With Bullet Wounds, Found in Wife's Apartment.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 10.—The bodies of Charles Cunningham, a powder maker, and his wife, Anna, were found dead last night in her apartment at No. 222 Atlantic Avenue. Mrs. Cunningham had been shot through the right lung. Her husband, who had a bullet wound in his forehead, clashed a revolver in his hand. Both had been dead many hours.

Evidence found in the room indicated that a desperate struggle took place. The woman's throat bore finger marks. The pair had been separated for some time. Cunningham had been intensely jealous of his wife.

DIES AFTER FLAG SPEECH.

James A. Sample, U. S. Treasury Cashier, Stricken at Banquet.

James A. Sample, cashier of the United States Treasury, died suddenly here last night, aged seventy-two years. The end came just as he had concluded a tribute to the national emblem at the annual banquet of the National Rifle Veterans' Association.

Mr. Sample was a native of Indiana, a personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, and was prominent in the Treasury Department during Mr. Lincoln's administration. He was prominently identified with the Masonic fraternity and with the Sons of the American Revolution.

CONQUER THE MUD, THE ONLY REAL FOE, IN MILITARY CAMP

Plattsburg Rookies Sit on Damp Grass in Ponchos for Lectures.

(Special From a Staff Correspondent of The Evening World.)

FIRST SENIOR CAMP FOR MILITARY INSTRUCTION, PLATTSBURG, June 10.—Mud has had a lot of prominence in the chronicles of the Plattsburg camps this year, but there seems to be no end of it. It rained all night last night and the black sour soil of Lake Champlain's margin, which had turned stiff and springy in two rainless days, turned back to slop and black molasses from three to six inches deep. Nobody deserted, but the mud was not all that was sour looking and black as the patriots came picking their way out of their mud tracked tents at reveille.

The first and second battalions went out in a lull which promised fair weather for the rest of the day. The shower circled over to the green mountains and back and sought the thousands of young men, some in their undershirts and some in their flannel shirts, doing setting up exercises by companies on the barracks parade ground.

"We won't get you any less wet taking you two miles back to camp," yelled their army commanders, and kept them right at it until they were steaming visibly. Major Stuart of the first battalion came along and observed that the four companies of his command were so wet they couldn't get any wetter and said they might as well practice the manual and close order movements by battalion for a while. There was not a dry shirt or pair of breeches in the battalion by noon. But after four hours there has not been a snuffle or a cough to foretell a coming cold. Major Herbert Shaw, Chief Medical Officer, says no general illness is in the least to be feared.

Lieut. J. B. Barnes of the Fifth Infantry, who commands F Company, awoke this morning to find that his campaign of camp engineering three days ago, when he made his men dig two-foot ditches all around their tents, though very successful in keeping puddles out of the tents, did not save the company street from becoming a river of slippery goo.

In leading the company over the face of county Mr. Barnes discovered a hill of clean dry sand. At noon today he borrowed six wagons with teamsters from the camp quartermaster and two dozen shovels from the barracks stores. With these and with intruding tools and with buckets and tin wash basins and trash cans and boxes, he has been digging a half mile of trench for an hour and a half until their street is now a dry, clean sand boulevard, with paths running to the bridges which cross the mud in the aqueduct. Among the busiest of the laborers was Gaston Sargent, an American graduate of Covent Garden, who is to be the principal bass of the Chicago Opera Company in the coming season. He trotted up and down the line with a galvanized bucket in one hand and a big alop can with sand in the other, both filled with sand, as cheerfully as though he were drawing $250 a day for the job.
